166th Airlift Wing active-shooter exercise tests, showcases readiness

166th Security Forces Airmen gather for an after-action briefing following an active shooter exercise at New Castle Air National Guard Base, Aug. 22, 2019.

The purpose of this exercise was to provide members of the 166th Airlift Wing with a greater awareness and understanding of possible threats as well as test their ability to respond properly in the event of an active shooter situation.
